*"My son, Juan Diego, where are you going?"
"Noble Lady," he answered, "I am on my way to the church of Tlatelolco to hear Mass." Then she said: "You must know and be very certain in your heart, my son, that I am truly the perpetual perfect Virgin Mary, holy mother of the True God through whom everything lives, the Creator and Master of Heaven and Earth. I wish and intensely desire that in this place a sanctuary be erected so that in it I may show and make known and give all my love, my compassion, my help and my protection to the people. I am your merciful mother, the mother of all of you who live united in this land, and of all mankind, of all those who love me, of those who cry to me, of those who seek me, of those who have confidence in me. Here I will hear their weeping, their sorrow, and will remedy and alleviate their suffering, necessities and misfortunes. And so that my intentions may be known, you must go to the house of the Bishop of Mexico and tell him that I sent you and that it is my desire to have a sanctuary built here. This is the sign that you must take to the Lord Bishop. In my name tell him with this he will see and recognize my will and that he must do what I ask; and you who are my ambassador worthy of my confidence, I counsel you to take every care that you open your mouth only in the presence of the bishop, and you must make it known to him what it is that you carry, and tell him how I asked you to climb to the top of the hill to gather the flowers. Tell him also all that you have seen, so that you will persuade the Lord Bishop and he will see that the church is built for which I ask."*
